BNY MELLON

Invested in Thought Leadership: Industry Experts Featured at New England AFP Conference

Join BNY Mellon Treasury Services at the New England AFP (formerly TMANE) Annual Conference April 15-17, 2015 in Uncasville, CT. Several of our solutions experts will present the following topics and will be on hand to discuss the latest industry topics with attendees:

“Risk: Lessons from the Field” (Roundtable)

Thursday, April 16, 2015

9:00 a.m. - 10:15 a.m. (Session R5)

Lynne Marlor, head of BNY Mellon’s Treasury Services’ Specialized Industries Sales & Relationship team, will moderate a panel of experienced corporate practitioners in this session to help attendees understand how current risk issues – as posed by multiple regulatory, industry and economic factors – may impact the responsibilities of today’s corporate Treasurers.

“Demand Notes: A Viable, Alternative Funding Source?”

Friday, April 17

8:00 a.m. - 8:50 a.m. (Session 311)

Lynne Marlor will also host this session with Daniel Skidmore, Manager for Demand Notes and Lockbox for Mercedes-Benz Financial Services, to explore how corporations are continuing to consider ways to diversify their funding sources beyond traditional commercial paper and bonds to include demand note programs, which are designed to allow the purchasing of debt in the form of variable rate or fixed rate notes.

“Trends in Global Payments Settlement: A Five- to Ten-year Outlook for Banks and Treasurers”

Friday, April 17

10:30 a.m. - 11:45 a.m. (Session 510)

Ana Sancho, Global Network Manager, and Phillip Welton, Global Payments Solutions Product Manager, both of BNY Mellon Treasury Services, will present this session on understanding the impending challenges that increasingly complex global financial regulations may pose for global payment practitioners in the near future, and the resulting
