Cautionary Statement

A number of statements in our presentations, the accompanying slides and the responses to your questions are "forward-looking statements." These statements relate to, among other things, The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation's (the "Corporation") financial outlook and future financial results, including statements with respect to the outlook for the operating environment, balance sheet capital, market trends, the macro economic outlook, customer preferences, the Corporation's growth opportunities, future focus and global expansion, the Corporation's focus on operations, technology and corporate services, expectations regarding the implementation of Basel III, our timeline to meet the proposed Basel III capital guidelines and our Tier 1 common equity ratio under Basel III, expectations with respect to returning capital to shareholders, acquisitions and long-term return targets, anticipated actions to support Net Interest Revenue, projected expense savings and anticipated incremental expenses related to efficiency initiatives, as well as the Corporation's overall plans, strategies, goals, objectives, expectations, estimates, intentions, targets, opportunities and initiatives, and are based on assumptions that involve risks and uncertainties and that are subject to change based on various important factors (some of which are beyond the Corporation's control).

Actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied as a result of the factors described under "Forward Looking Statements" and "Risk Factors" in the Corporation's 2010 Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2010, the Corporation's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2011 and in other filings of the Corporation with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"). Such forward-looking statements speak only as of November 14, 2011, and the Corporation undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after that date or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

Non-GAAP Measures: In this presentation we will discuss some non-GAAP measures in detailing the Corporation's performance. We believe these measures are useful to the investment community in analyzing the financial results and trends of ongoing operations. We believe they facilitate comparisons with prior periods and reflect the principal basis on which our management monitors financial performance. Additional disclosures relating to non-GAAP measures are contained in the Appendix and in the Corporation's reports filed with the SEC, including the 2010 Annual Report and the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2011, available at www.bnymellon.com.
