Cautionary Statement

A number of statements in our presentations, the accompanying slides and the responses to your questions are “forward-looking statements.” Words such as “estimate”, “forecast”, “project”, “anticipate”, “target”, “expect”, “intend”, “continue”, “seek”, “believe”, “plan”, “goal”, “could”, “should”, “may”, “will”, “strategy”, “opportunities”, “trends” and words of similar meaning signify forward-looking statements. These statements relate to, among other things, The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation’s (the “Corporation”) expectations regarding: our strategic plan and priorities; three-year financial goals and positioning against those goals; business improvement process; fees, revenue and expenses; interest rate impact on fee waivers and net interest revenue sensitivity analysis; fourth quarter and full year expectations; technology initiatives; regulatory rules and impact; as well as the Corporation’s overall plans, strategies, goals, objectives, expectations, estimates, intentions, targets, opportunities and initiatives. These forward-looking statements are based on assumptions that involve risks and uncertainties and that are subject to change based on various important factors (some of which are beyond the Corporation’s control).

Actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied as a result of the factors described under “Forward-Looking Statements” and “Risk Factors” in the Corporation’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2014 (the “2014 Annual Report”), and in other filings of the Corporation with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”). Such forward-looking statements speak only as of December 9, 2015, and the Corporation undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after that date or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events. For additional information regarding the Corporation, please refer to the Corporation’s SEC filings available at www.bnymellon.com/investorrelations.

Non-GAAP Measures: In this presentation we may discuss some non-GAAP adjusted measures in detailing the Corporation’s performance. We believe these measures are useful to the investment community in analyzing the financial results and trends of ongoing operations. We believe they facilitate comparisons with prior periods and reflect the principal basis on which our management monitors financial performance. Additional disclosures relating to non-GAAP adjusted measures are contained in the Corporation’s reports filed with the SEC, including the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2015 available at www.bnymellon.com/investorrelations.

NOTE: All financial data for the Corporation throughout the presentation is as of 9/30/15 unless otherwise noted.

Net Interest Revenue Sensitivity Assumptions

Interest Rate Sensitivity Assumptions

- 100 basis point parallel rate ramp scenario with both short-term and long-term rates rising in four equal quarterly increments of 25 basis points
- Incorporates assumptions about the impact of changes in interest rates on depositor behavior based on historical experience and business expectations
- Forward interest-rate curve and static balance sheet
- Growth or contraction of deposits could also be affected by the following factors:
 - Monetary policy
 - Global economic uncertainty
 - Our ratings relative to other financial institutions' ratings
 - Money market mutual fund and other regulatory reform
