

WE COLLABORATE ACROSS THE INDUSTRY

Jolen Anderson, Global Head of Human Resources

June 2021

As a child of immigrants that grew up on military bases around the world, it gave me a real sense of community and partnership because we were all part of this small world of families, men and women in our armed services. That sense of community and being a part of something bigger than myself -- it influenced my perspective and how I approach things. I believe that partnerships drive progress -- it's why the work we're doing at BNY Mellon around ESG, particularly around the environment, DEI, and social good is so important to me. We really believe in coming together with others in the industry to have an impact bigger than we could on our own. And we're not just positioning our company for the change -- we're driving change across the industry.
