

TRENDS SHAPING OUR WORLD

June 2018

Fundamental shifts in the world's economic, societal and environmental landscape are redefining the future.

In a changing world, our corporate social responsibility initiatives make BNY Mellon a better partner to our clients, employees and communities.

Responding to key trends shaping our markets, our people and our world helps us to remain a global leader in our industry and a trusted corporate citizen.

Technology is moving faster.

Globalized markets are increasingly interdependent.

Gender equality is unlocking economic growth.

The global workforce is changing.

And climate change impacts are intensifying.

BNY Mellon sees great promise in using our reach, market power and expertise to help address the world's most pressing problems and supports sustainable development for individuals, societies and the planet.
